Fortune released its 2024 Fortune Future 50 List today. WeRide Inc. (Nasdaq: WRD), a global leader and a first mover has been named to the prestigious list. The Fortune Future 50 ranks the world’s top public and private companies with the best long-term growth potential, assessing factors like strategic orientation, technology and investments, people, and structure. WeRide is the highest ranked autonomous driving company on The Fortune Future 50 list. OpenAI, Shopify, Nvidia, Reddit and other renowned compa

WeRide’s inclusion as the highest ranked autonomous driving company on the list follows its Initial Public Offering and Nasdaq listing in October 2024. WeRide became the world’s first publicly listed robotaxi company and the first publicly listed universal autonomous driving technology company, raising $458.5 million through the IPO and a private placement.

"We are honored to be recognized by Fortune as one of the companies with the greatest long-term growth potential," said Tony Han, Founder and CEO of WeRide. "This accolade is a testament to the hard work and innovation of our team, as well as the transformative potential of our autonomous driving technology. As we continue to scale our operations and expand our global footprint, we remain committed to delivering safe, reliable, and accessible autonomous driving solutions."

Created in 2017 by Boston Consulting Group and Fortune, the ranking assesses the long-term revenue growth prospects of over 2,800 publicly traded companies with at least $5 billion in market value, and over 170 privately held firms with at least $1 billion in funding, using a proprietary "vitality index." Listed companies have consistently outperformed the broader market in revenue growth.

This recognition underscores the Company's position as a global leader in autonomous driving. In September 2023, WeRide was also honored as one of the "2023 Change the World" companies by Fortune.
